

Renowned real estate family opens local office

The Tierney name is renowned for real estate across Sunraysia, with three generations having made a huge impact on the local industry.

Martin Tierney

Martin Tierney, a community minded, family orientated man spent much of his working life as a real estate agent on Eighth Street working for the firm William Davis.

As a natural progression Frank Tierney Senior followed in his father's footsteps, working initially as a paper boy before finding work at Henshall and Osmond. Following a six year stint in the Australian Imperial Forces, Frank Snr returned to the firm and became a licenced real estate agent.

He paved his way to a very successful career in real estate as one half of Collie and Tierney, one of the biggest rural real estate businesses in country Victoria.

Frank Junior had real estate in his genes and began his career as an office boy at WH Lehman Stock and Station agent in Mildura. He then moved into real estate sales in 1972 after retiring from the Australian Armed Forces, taking over Collie and Tierney along with George Collie Junior.

Frank Jnr has since been involved in real estate both nationally and internationally, and is currently based in Melbourne where he works as Director of Tierney Property Group, which provides property services across Australia and Papua New Guinea.

The Tierney Property Group is now embarking on a new and exciting venture, with the opening of Tierney Real Estate in Mildura.

Tierney Real Estate is the continuation of an amazing legacy of providing the community with a highly personalised and flexible service.

The business prides itself on old fashioned values which have been established over three generations of Tierneys.

Working with clients, Tierney Real Estate will provide valuable advice and keep you involved along each step of the way, with regular progress meetings and phone calls to ensure you're kept in the loop.

With each property so vastly different, they tailor their service to suit you individually and dedicate themselves to finding you the perfect home.

“ We believe in our knowledge of Mildura and we want to help the city have a strong and promising future developing property strategies, project management and marketing.

“We're bringing a level of expertise to Mildura that very few regional areas have.

“We have very strong qualifications in commercial and residential real estate, and have a lot of expertise in rural real estate.

“We can expose our client's properties to a much wider market and we have the ability to bring people in from other areas.

“If we're able to promote Mildura to those outside of the city; to bring buyers and investors into Mildura, it really opens up a much wider market for our clients.”

The Tierney family has been a pivotal influence on real estate in Mildura with many property
